TOURNAMENT HISTORY

The original tournament began in 1967 as the Loyola Centennial Tournament. During its six year history, the Loyola Tourney attracted such outstanding teams as Michigan Tech, Harvard, Boston College, Boston University, Clarkson, Toronto, Alberta, St. Mary's and Sir George Williams.

The Centennial Tournament was superseded by Hockey Canada which Loyola hosted for two years. Hockey Canada discontinued sponsorship and Sir George Williams University continued the tourney in 1974-75. The MICRON Tournament is now in its 6th year with the backing of a major skate manufacturer "MICRON", it has become Canada's outstanding College Hockey Tournament, attracting the finest teams and players from both Canada and the United States.

This year the C.B.C. joins Micron as a Tournament sponsor. The C.B.C. and MICRON welcome the McGill University Redmen, the Brandon University Bobcats, the University of Saskatchewan Huskies and the host Concordia University Stingers.

As the Tournament begins, Saskatchewan, the defending National Champions, leads in Canada West, Brandon leads the G.P.A.C. and Concordia has the lead over second place McGill in the Q.U.A.A.

Concordia-McGill trigger Campus hockey boom

By MIKE COHEN
of The Express

For the first time in many years a legitimate Concordia Stingers-McGill Redmen hockey rivalry appears to be materializing. And Concordia coach Paul Arsenault can't think of a better way to upgrade the image of the university game locally.

"If we want to start putting some people in the stands," contends Arsenault, "a rivalry with McGill is a good place to start. I may be an eternal optimist, but I think this season is going to be the beginning of a new era.

"Just look at the signs," adds Arsenault, currently in his 20th season behind the bench. "McGill's program is developing into a good one. We've got a scholarship program for the very first time and the league might be expanding by two teams next year (University of Montreal and Laval)."

The 1983-84 Quebec University Athletic Association (QUAA) hockey campaign began last month. Concordia, QUAA champions the past eight seasons, have skated to three victories in as many tries while the Redmen have played two games, winning one and tying the other. Concordia will play host to Chicoutimi at the Loyola campus next Saturday and McGill will meet Ottawa at home on Nov. 4. But the game both clubs are anxiously awaiting is scheduled for Nov. 15 at McGill when the Redmen will try and stretch their winning streak to two over the Stingers.

McGill, with an 11-19-0 record last season and missing qualifying for the playoffs by one point, managed their second victory in 39 lifetime meetings versus the Stingers last February when they triumphed 2-1.

"The Stingers may have beaten us five times last season, but every one of those games was a barn-burner," insists McGill coach Ken Tyler. "We're looking forward to the first time we meet the Stingers this season. There's always been a rivalry between the two teams, because we play in the same city. But when both teams are somewhat equal, the rivalry becomes more intense."

Despite the loss of eight players from last season's roster, including star forward John Sliskovic and MVP defenceman Mike Walker, the Stingers still favored to repeat as QUAA champions. Veteran forward Brian Taylor, a 38-goal scorer last season, and Gilles Hebert are back. And two-time QUAA all-star goaltender Stephane Heon, a starter in 49 of the team's 54 games last year, returns between the pipes.

"This will be kind of a building year for us," says Arsenault. "We have a lot of young players we'll have to work with. But I honestly feel we've picked up more talent than we lost. Our goaler and four regular defencemen are back and if you can build from the goaltender out you're in good shape."

McGill will be depending heavily on the offensive heroics of 21-year-old scoring machine George Burnett, the 1982-82 QUAA rookie-of-the-year, and newcomer Alain Robichaud, who starred with the Quebec Major Junior Hockey League (QMJHL) Trois-Rivieres Draveurs last year. Captain Yves Beaucage is back for his fourth season and Brad Field has returned for season number three at forward.

With the calibre of hockey in the QUAA improving, Arsenault feels it is only a matter of time before sizeable crowds begin filling into the arena. But in order for that to take shape, a Concordia-McGill rivalry is almost an absolute necessity.

"For the past few seasons we've been averaging about 300 people a game," mentioned Arsenault. "I guess a lot of people are just tired of seeing us blowing out the opposition every game. Even I get bored with it. I'm not saying I want McGill to beat us, but if they do it would be great for the league."

Over 350 spectators turned out for McGill's season opener last Saturday against Chicoutimi. The club has switched the starting time of their Saturday games from 7:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. so they won't compete with the Canadiens. And team publicist Earl Zuckerman has lined up a guest appearance by the San Diego Chicken for some time in January.

"It's going to cost us a bundle," says Zuckerman, "but we'll sell out for sure. And that will be worth the whole thing."
